The Voice of Athletic Administration

Since 1975, the National Interscholastic Athletic Administrators Association has been the voice of the dedicated people who administer high school and middle school athletic programs. As you serve the youth, schools and communities of our nation, be aware that the NIAAA mission is to assist you with support, numerous resources and professional growth opportunities.

Integrity of Service

AIM (Association Insurance Management, Inc.), recently joined with the NIAAA as a corporate sponsor. Headquartered in Dallas, Texas, a unique offering by AIM is to aid athletic directors in insurance coverage for booster clubs. From general liability to bonding coverage against theft, AIM has financial solutions to keep booster clubs from harms way. To learn more, click here.

State Happenings

The 3rd annual national winners of the NIAAA Student Scholarship/Essay were honored at the December national conference in Texas. This years winners are Miss Taylor Smith who hails from Iowa, and Mr. David Welch of Mississippi. To meet these two outstanding students and read their essay on what their participation in high school athletics has meant to them, click here.

Cutting Edge Practices

Consider attending the 10th Annual National Coaching Educator's Conference being held from June 17-19 in Savannah, Georgia, at the Hilton DeSoto Hotel. The conference is sponsored by the USA Coaching Coalition (USOC, NCAA, NASPE, NFHS) and hosted by Georgia Southern University. If you have an interest in improving coaching, and collaborating with key stakeholders in this effort go to the website below to learn more, Register before April 15 to receive a discount.

Special Programs

The newest program of the NIAAA is the Hall of Fame which inducted its inaugural class at December's national athletic director conference held in Grapevine (Dallas), Texas. The conference banquet awards program and Hall of Fame induction was a tremendous evening shared by the conference attendees.
